

Beverly of Graustark

CHAPTER XVIII.

BEVERLY was speechless.

"Of course, your highness," said Baldwin, deep slyony in his voice. "I have no right to interfere. You are his master, and you should not misjudge his motives. How could he have been blind to that? I am sure that Miss Calhoun is a Princess--but I beg your pardon. She is to be your guest. A thousand thanks."

She had been struck dumb by the wording of the note, but his appearance and apology were so frank that she could not help smiling.

"How could he have been blind?

"He was speaking her wife's name, and every smile into play once more.

While he was speaking her wife was forming theories, and the next moment a sly smile was on his face.

"You--you believe me to be the princess, sure enough, don't you?"

But she did not dare to look him in the face.

"How can you doubt it, your highness?"

"I am not in the present capacity if I believed you to be any one else."

"I am not wondering who has taken your faith in me?"

"It has strengthened. It is the case now, when we have met, we have been in doubt as to the identity of my benefactor."

"It seems to me that you are besting around the bush. I'll come straight to the point. How long have you known me? I am not the Princess of Graustark?"

"What?" he exclaimed, drawing back in surprise.

"Are you telling? I told you, do not just. It is very serious with me."

His alarm was so genuine that she was compelled to tell him.

"I am not jesting," the half white perched, turning very pale. "I love you, though I am not your wife. I am not your friend; I am not your confidante; that I am Grentall Lorry's wife?"

"You told me you were my friend."

"But I was--was any one wife?"

There was a piteous appeal in her voice, which was not slow to notice it and rejoice. Then his heart smote him.

"What is to become of us? We shall die here, we have no home."

Baldwin was alone in his own castle.

"I am not jesting," he said, with a smile.

"I am not jesting, you were my friend."

"I am not jesting, I am not your wife."

LOCAL

(From Saturday's Daily)

Mrs. Evans Green will not receive this month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. O'Brien have the services of the community in their lamentation for the loss of their infant son William Daugler, who passed away yesterday.

Rev. A. S. Maddil will conduct the service in Holy Trinity Church to-morrow morning.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Harold McLean, office clerk in the Ingro's Hotel met with a serious and mortal accident this morning. He was taken to the hospital in a critical condition and it is reported that the artery in his wrist, Dr. Collier was called and after dressing the wound McLean was taken to the hospital. The doctor says McLean may lose the use of the finger of the hand.

R. P. Pettipiece, former publisher of the South Edmonton News, now the Plaindealer, is a visitor in the city. Mr. Pettipiece is now the organizer for the Liberal Association. A typographical Union at Vancouver was held for North East, arrived in the city last night on the late train and proceeded to Edmonton. Hon. Mr. Stevenson is on a trip through the West.

Advertising in the Chronicle, last evening J. F. Weir advertised for a typewriter which he had lost; and this morning it was brought to him by Mr. R. Ryan, typewriter for the White Star Garage, who had picked it up on the street, and also refused to accept the reward offered.

In this issue we publish a motion from the health board regarding the duty of citizens to at once provide themselves with a metallic receptacle for kitchen slugs. This is in view of the possibility of an outbreak of typhoid during the autumn.

Mr. Pettipiece is both surprised and pleased at the growth and prosperity of the city. He says business conditions in the Coast province are good.

Mr. Pettipiece was a candidate in the Labour election in Vancouver city, but was defeated. He believes the Socialists will win one seat in the next federal election, and does not think the Liberal party will get a single member in the present election.

Mr. Pettipiece will leave Saturday P.M. for Winnipeg and intermediate points of interest on Tuesday.

A yield of fifty bushels of winter wheat to the acre is the record of the first of this year's threshing in the Clover Bar district. The threshing took place on Thursday at the farm of Mr. Reynolds at Clover Bar. This was the first threshing of the season, and was performed by John Schreiter, who has recently purchased a new Abel threshing outfit.

H. S. Bowden, of Strathcona, local representative of the American Abel Company, who is present at the threshing, states that it is the highest specimen of winter wheat. The grain was heavy and very well filled, although it was a little green when cut. The new Abel outfit has a capacity of 150 bushels per hour.

There has been no material damage to the grain by frost," said Mr. Bowden. "I have threshed through the country from Red Deer to Edmonton and in my opinion the crops are not damaged. The frost was felt slightly east of Lethbridge, I believe, but in the rest of the country there has been practically no damage."

Mr. Bowden states that in the Clover Bar district the winter wheat was nearly all harvested. Red Deer to Edmonton and in my opinion the crops are not damaged. The frost was felt slightly east of Lethbridge, I believe, but in the rest of the country there has been practically no damage."

Mr. Bowden expresses the opinion that the crop in this part of Alberta was the best it had been for the past five years. It was a little later than last year, but he believed the yield would be heavier.

Prest Ottewell's crop in the same locality is almost equal to that of Mr. Reynolds.

A couple of lively boxing bouts were witnessed in the Oddfellows' Hall last night. It had been advertised that Mr. Alister, a boxer from the west, and Mr. Manitoba, would take on two men from the gold dredge, Jack Howe and an unknown, but owing to an injury to his wrist, Howe was unable to go on. It was agreed that the two men would box four rounds with the Manitoba man, but when condition stopped him at the end of the third.

He showed up again and had a slight advantage at the start, but having had no preparation for the bout, could not go the pace with a man of Adam's calibre. If he had put in a bit more training, or if he would make a good match for Adam. Alister acted as referee and J. W. Tiston acted as timekeeper. H. Jameson was in Adam's corner and Fisher in the other.

Fisher, the well-known Strathcona House boxer, and Webber, another Strathcona boy, boxed four fast rounds before the mat house. They were evenly matched, but Webber, who was strong enough to sustain a "contra" in build, Fisher being long and lathy while Webber was short and sturdy.

There was a much more satisfactory attendance than at the last exhibition held in the city.

Wind was received today at the city hospital from St. Albert to reserve a ward for H. A. Calder, the well known lumber ranger. Whether Mr. Calder is making a permanent contract is not known, but he would be a good match for Adam. Alister is a friend of A. M. and Dr. Fuller and the former was telephoned word of the request.

John Halstead, assistant general freight agent for the C.P.R. at Calgary, is in charge and Edmonton in connection with his department.

The Empire Coal Co. have let the services for their air shaft to A. D. Campbell, who will begin operations at once.

Sidney C. Beets, who was for two years manager of the branch bank of the Imperial Bank, has been transferred to Banff, for which point he left today. During his stay here Mr. Beets was extremely popular.

The reception to Douglas MacLean, winner of the Governor-General's prize, on his return to Strathcona, will take the form of a public meeting, and will be held at the hall of the Squadron C. M. R. The ceremony will probably be held in Tipton's room, the most convenient place.

Hon. H. F. Sutherland, M. P., Speaker of the House of Commons Liberal member for Edmonton for North East, arrived in the city last night on the late train and proceeded to Edmonton. Hon. Mr. Stevenson is on a trip through the West.

Mr. Pettipiece is both surprised and pleased at the growth and prosperity of the city at heart will at once comply with the health regulation.

Edmonton, a position rendered vacant April 1st, 1907, by the death of Arthur Harrison, now secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade.

Since Mr. Harrison resigned, Mr. Alex Norquay has been active in the office, but the work has been greatly increased during the winter and the work of the office has been rendered extremely heavy by reason of the increased commercial entries.

McLean & Co. have been closely connected with the welfare of Edmonton and was its first mayor after it assumed the status of a city. For many years he has been a member of the Board of Trade.

Signaling to enable private business to do business with the firm, K. W. Mackenzie & Co. has always been active in civic affairs, and now holds the honorary position of president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada, to which he was elected at the Prince Albert convention.

Mr. Mackenzie states that he has no office notice of his appointment, but it is generally known in Edmonton, however, that Mr. Mackenzie was recommended for the appointment by the local Liberal Association.

The following account of the meeting held to decide the question of the championship of the Northern section of the Alberta Lacrosse League is taken from the Calgary Albertan of Saturday:

"The Calgary Lacrosse team is the only team in the Northern section of the Alberta Lacrosse League. This decision was arrived at at a meeting of the council of the Alberta League which was held in Calgary last night. Calgary will play home games with the Lethbridge team. The first game will be played Saturday, October 14, in Calgary, and the second on Friday evening in Lethbridge. The team should consist of 12 players, and the game will be decided by a goal, with a tie-breaker if necessary. The following members of the council were present: Dr. DuVivier, president; E. Telford, Dr. Stanley, and S. M. McLean, vice-president.

Mr. Kent and Manager Harris looked after the interests of the Strathcona team, while C. P. McLean, J. J. O'Kane, Captain MacLean, and Captain McLean took care of the Calgary team.

The meeting was held in the office of the Calgary Board of Trade and the first session was held at eight o'clock.

In holding the meeting, the president engaged that there had been no machination and backbiting between the clubs, and also that some of the clubs had not lived up to the rules of the association.

Mr. Telfer expressed his opinion that the difficulty could be arranged if they decided exactly what position Edmonton should take.

After much discussion, the following motion was passed:

"That in the opinion of the executive of the Northern section of the Alberta Lacrosse League, the question of the rules in the association must be lived up to in their entirety, and the situation as far as this year's play is concerned, the part which has been taken by the association in the past, will not be repeated.

Then, after a long discussion on the question of all topics, the final decision was taken in the Calgary Strathcona matter and particularly in regard to the tie-breaker rule, which was played on July 17.

THE ROAD TO FAME

By ALBERT HIGGINS

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. EASTMAN

It was Grandma Foster who was to claim for it. She came on a visit to her daughter, Farmer Stebbins' wife, and found her niece, Hattie teaching her district school and engaged to be married to a wealthy young man in Denver.

But the girl, who was fairly educated, fairly good looking and very well contented with her life, Grandma coming, however, started the first trouble.

During her life, Hattie had attended a theatrical performance. It was in the new play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," of course, and the company was made up of actors who were not at all great play, and it was, grandma, who was only a little girl then, thrill from top to toe.

Soon after her arrival at the Stebbins home Hattie walked across the veranda in a way that made the old lady start.

"My soul! if that don't remind me of Ophelia in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'!"

"I've got her walk to perfection.

Child, have you been practicing for the stage?"

"No, ma'am."

"But the way you just turned around, four looking back at me with your head over your shoulder, the way you did, the way you did, all that reminds me of Ophelia. You could step right on the stage and play the character!"

That was the beginning. Grandmas announced her secret discovery to her sister and brother-in-law and advised them to see Hattie.

Hattie, however, was not to be seen; but, meeting with decided opposition, she said nothing further to them.

Many were the comments held between the two grandmothers.

It had been forty-two years since grandma had seen the historic play and what a scene it had created.

Within a week she had decided that Hattie could not only play the part of Ophelia, but of little Eva,

"ELDOR NOVOL, IF THIS DON'T REMIND ME OF OPHELIA IN 'UNCLE TOM'S CABIN'!"

Legro, Marks and even of Uncle Tom himself. She couldn't fail to be the whole show, and in four weeks she would be in the "Great Cabin" to Shakespearean plays. The old lady believed what she said, and the young lady had to be shown the door.

Uncle Tom, however, tried his best to open his fiancee's eyes.

"Your grandmother is a fool," was the short way of putting it because you can never get a glibber to admit that you would make a great actress.

You just give up the idea and settle down to the quiet life."

"Mr. Ball, I permit no one to speak disrespectfully of my grandmother, but, speaking for myself, Mr. Ball, My resolution is, that I will not speak of her.

Nothing that you can say will stop me in the least. Destiny calls me."

"What do you mean to tell me that you are going to leave us, though to go on stage?" he shouted.

"Remember whom you are addressing, you!" she warned as she drew herself up.

"'Ely, guess but you have gone crazy!"

That was the end of the argument, though you can say what will come in the least. Destiny calls me."

"What do you mean to tell me that you are going to leave us, though to go on stage?" he shouted.

"Then go right along and make a foot of room for me, and I'll be off when you turn away."

When the grandmother was informed of this, she sent a telegram to Mr. Ball, she held out new encouragement.

She discovered new things to find new encouragement.

The very next day Miss Hattie climbed a tall tree down on the lawn or ran into a clothesline porch where the girl was soon out of sight and had been longing in obscurity.

Her district was continued, and still more might come out of it, talk but for the week's holiday in September to give the carpenters time to make the house ready for the girl to go home, and now Miss Hattie went over to the country seat to visit a girl friend.

She had been there but a few days "out" for the last three months.

Instead, moping and sorrowing and breaking his heart he had again met her.

He had been buying the luxuries of buying butter and eggs for the market.

A theatrical company playing "Old Love Him" had struck the town and excited the people. The actors and actresses had sauntered about the street and kept the observers of all observers. There was talk of a "mendous cast" and a "carried of scenes."

There was talk of "farmers and their wives" and "creepers and spiders."

The play had run several hundred nights in New York and the same in London.

It was in London that she had earned over a million dollars in royalties.

Miss Hattie Stebbins had decided to return to America.

She had been in a grocery store, and the manager in a grocery where he had called for crackers, cheese and butter, and, to her intense joy, he said, "I'll give you a gold ring, just plain second lead. Her salary would be £25 per week. Her part would be to hold the ring while the manager sold the ring.

She entered the parlor, trim two lamps and ask the leading lady if she should take the ring.

The manager could promise her no more than present, as the leading lady was intensely jealous of her part, but she was to be the leading lady.

CITY COUCNIL

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Alderman Elliott and Cawood were the speakers from the City Council at their meeting of the City Council. Alderman Hubert was back in the city after a holiday of some weeks.

The city budget will probably soon be ready for use. A letter was read from Belmont Bros., the Winnipeg firm of lithographers who have the work in hand, stating that a new mill was being built and that they would go along with the lithographing as soon as they were notified that it was correct.

Ex-Member of Parliament, Mr. D. G. McKeown, gave notice of his law practice that anyone in arrears of current taxes shall not be allowed to vote.

It was resolved that all the available electric energy which could be spared should be given to the hospital if proper arrangements could be made.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS
The council last night in the institution, sat late to make arrangements for better quarters for the nurses.

B. Squier of M.R. are moving their paraphernalia from the rink to a building near the weigh scales prepared for them by Harry Smith.

A citizen who was out in the country during the evening was surprised to see a sign which said "No Trespassing". It shows that the farmers are not slow to take advantage of the best of the weather which prevails.

The communication was referred to the committee concerned to be paid if found correct:

The hotel and license committee reported as follows on the question of a tobacco, cigar and cigarette license:

"Your committee are of the opinion that the license should not be placed on the sale of tobacco."

"Your committee are not in favor of placing a license on the sale of cigarettes that would give one or two dealers a monopoly of the business, but in favor of a probationary license, but think that such probationary license should not be imposed without being asked for by the public."

The engineer reported the completion of the water and sewer extension from the hospital to the laundry in the rear of the building at a cost of $1,000. The pound was now dry and would when water was laid on be ready for use. The poundkeeper had intended to pay rent for the building when it was ready. He had paid Mr. Clegg $12.50 a month for the old enclosure and would be willing to pay the same amount for the new one. It was suggested that he should remain in as his present employer he might be in a position to deal with persons who became abusive when their cows were impounded.

It was resolved on the motion of Mr. K. H. Hubert that the poundkeeper be received and find that Mr. Watson should be sworn in as a constable without salary.

A copy was read of a letter addressed by the mayor to the various heads of departments in the city asking them to furnish lists of men employed under them, the duties of cash men, the rate of wages at which they were employed, and what compensation was given for overtime, the idea apparently being to cut down the civic pay roll if possible.

However, any such hope was not to be realized. Mr. McDonald, the city engineer, thought he had obtained a list of names a man after the middle of the month and Mr. Turnbull, the sanitary inspector, was of the opinion that the city had a sufficient number of cash men, but Mr. Palmer, street foreman, asked for a few extra men and his request appeared so reasonable that his report was referred to the committee on public works.

The rules were suspended to hear delegates, etc., and Mr. H. Wilson addressed the council with regard to a sidewalk along West Railway Street to his home, asking for a permit to plant it nothing better could be provided. The matter was referred to the public works committee.

A letter by Mr. Wilson for a light at the corner of Oliver Ave. and West Railway street and another request for a light at the corner of St. Lukes and Lamade Ave. were referred to the fire department.

Mr. Alton representing the Canadian Pipe Co., asked for a payment on account of the wood water pipe supplied by him to the city. Mr. Cawood pointed out that the contract called for the payment of 50 per cent of the cost of delivery and 50 per cent after 90 days for the pipe, and as yet received no payment whatever.

This matter was referred to the Mayor and secretary-treasurer to make arrangements with Mr. Alton.

It was decided to hold a special court of review for the hearing of appeals against local improvement assessment notices to be held at 7:30 p.m. September 18.

A letter from the Mayor recommending that the council consider the advisability of increasing the number of Aldermen and the city council under the provisions of the city charter was laid on the table for future consideration.

The same treatment was accorded as extensively signed petition asking that the city be divided into four wards.

Mr. Elliott thought it would be good if the petitioners could get the city to take up this matter and get the council to consider it.

Alderman Elliott thought it would be a wise thing to have a referendum on the matter.

Mr. Cawood thought that the council should be given notice of the tax rate previously proposed making eleven mills. The extra mill is to be paid by the ratepayers.

Mr. Cawood gave notice of his law practice that anyone in arrears of current taxes shall not be allowed to vote.

It was resolved that all the available electric energy which could be spared should be given to the hospital if proper arrangements could be made.

CHRONKS

The discussion between the mayor and aldermen over the question of the permanency of the new sidewalk and whether the fault is with the contractor or the council, recalls the investigation into the destruction of a well insured building owned by a Hebrew.

The first witness thought the cause should be gas light. The second thought it was the incandescent light. The Irish party were investigating closely and asked as to his opinion, said: "I suppose it is the gas light." Babe?

I think it was the gas light!" Babe?

The business men in a part of Whyte Ave., east of the track, are all nursing lame backs, contracted helping themselves to get their vehicles out of the mud hole.

We would respectfully call the attention of the mayor and the board of works to the fact that there hasn't been a paid off shub shub on the sidewalk in front of our window for a whole half day. The absence of the bucket brigade makes us homeless.

It is the essence of the agreement a man makes with himself to ford Whyte Ave. East—except at the regular crossings.

That tobacco and cigarettes crusade on the child magistrate has been laid away in its untimely grave. Its little life went out like a puff of smoke.

A. M. Tarrabin, Strathcona, laid a charge against his cousin, Frank Tarrabin, at the barracks of stealing horses and mules from the Royal Horse Guards Stable.

The old parishioner was moved immediately to the south of the C. P. R. Ice House.

Frank Tarrabin, at the barracks of the Royal Horse Guards Stable, was laid away in its untimely grave. Its little life went out like a puff of smoke.
